

Arizona Commemorative Quarter Launch

On Saturday, May 31st, 2008, over 200 volunteers helped stuff the new Arizona quarters into more than 20,000 folios. Volunteers included Girl Scouts, Library and Archives staff, Wells Fargo employees, and as can be seen below, a lot of generous people from throughout the community.

Photo by Wendi Goen

Planning for the Arizona Quarter Launch took countless hours and the efforts of many talented and dedicated individuals.

On Monday, June 2nd, over 2,000 people came to the Capitol to attend the Launch Ceremony, featuring Governor Napolitano and U.S. Mint Director Ed Moy, and to eat free ice cream and purchase folios.

Waiting in line to purchase folios

Photos by Taylor Arrazola

Governor Napolitano and U.S. Mint Director Ed Moy get ready to launch the new Arizona Quarter

